(Successor to the Maryville Republican)

VOLUME 2.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1911.

NO. 99.

TO MAKE A START

WORK ON SOLUTION OF WATER PROBLEM TO BEGIN.

COUNCIL SAYS, GO AHEAD

The Board Authorized to Proceed in Its Own Way at Its Discretion.

Real work on taking the value of the present water company's plant and what improvements are necessary to determine what a new plant can be put in for, and to make tests for well water as a source of supply for city water, will commence within the next week or so, as it is thought the board of public works will contract with the two engineering firms to do the work within the next two days.

At a meeting of the city council held Tuesday afternoon, the council authorized the board of public works to take what action they thought best, and to make what contracts are necessary.

The board of public works will meet this afternoon, and while they did not hire the engineers, they expect to sign up a contract within a day or so. The two engineering firms that will be hired are Burns & McDonald of Kansas City, the firm that made an estimate and placed a value on the city company's plant five or six years ago, and Hiram Phillips of St. Louis. The object of the board in hiring two engineering firms, working independently of one another, is for the purpose of having as true a value of the plant and what a new plant would cost as possible. The two firms will only be hired for the time it will take for experimental work. For the rest of the work, such as improving the old plant, or in case of building a new water plant or making test wells, the engineers whose suggestions along these lines are the best will be hired, and in case the board believes they can do better, neither of the firms will be employed.

The board is anxious to commence work at once. Manager Street of the city water company will probably be in the city within the next few days, to be here when an estimate of the plant is made.

LITTLE BOY DIED AT HOSPITAL TUESDAY

DEATH OF FORMER HOPKINS RESIDENT

Mrs. Frank Peck, sister-in-law of Mrs. E. C. Wolters, Sr., of Hopkins, died in St. Joseph Tuesday, September 26, of a complication of diseases. Her body was taken to Hopkins Wednesday noon for burial, after a brief funeral service in St. Joseph, and was accompanied by the husband and his only daughter, Mrs. David Rice of Oklahoma City. Burial took place in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Peck and his family moved to Oklahoma City from their former home in Hopkins about twelve years ago. About two months ago Mr. Peck and his wife moved to St. Joseph for treatment for her. Mrs. Peck is survived by her husband, a daughter and two sons, who are Mrs. David Rice of Oklahoma City; Gilbert Peck of Perry, Okla., and William Peck, who is now in Texas.

Mrs. Peck was a consecrated, cultured, Christian woman and her love and friendship was highly prized by all who knew her.

THE HOME WRECKER

THE DIVORCE COURT STATISTICS SHOW WOMAN BLAMEABLE.

3 SUITS TO 5 LICENSES

Mother-in-Law a Much Maligned Party—Figures in Only 2 Per Cent of Divorce Cases.

Woman, not man, is the real home-wrecker, according to statistics being compiled from the divorce court record at Kansas City, says the Star. So far, the statistics show practically 80 per cent of the divorce suits now on the circuit court docket are brought by wives and that practically the same percentage of the suits are brought on so-called trivial charges. By trivial charges is meant incompatibility of temper, quarrels and charges which do not charge infractions of moral or civil laws.

Previous statistics showed that in Jackson county, in which Kansas City is, there were three suits for divorce filed to every five marriage licenses issued and this startling percentage prompted an investigation. It is found that while 80 per cent of the plaintiffs are women and 80 per cent of their suits are brought on trivial charges and 10 per cent are charges of desertion, immoral conduct, refusal to perform marital duties or neglect of the home through a desire to work elsewhere.

Men, too, it is shown by the suits, are long suffering, the average duration of married life of couples in which the husband is the plaintiff being twice the duration of marriage in suits where the wife is plaintiff.

Women, too, the statistics show, have apparently less regard for the future of their children. Whereas, in the suits filed by men, the average number of children to the family is about one, while 300 suits taken consecutively from the docket in which women are plaintiffs, show nearly 1,000 children, or a little more than an average of three to the family.

Two deductions are made from this fact, but the investigators have not gone deeply enough to determine which is the more nearly correct. On the one hand it would tend to show that the husband is disposed to endure longer the marital infidelity in his capacity of a father than the wife is in her capacity of mother. On the other hand, it would tend to show either that the mother has less regard for her children or that she is more confident of the future of them under her sole care, that she is braver in going forth in the world to make a home for them than the father. The father naturally looks to a woman to care for his children and hesitates in taking them from their mother, even where the mother is gravely derelict. The mother, on the other hand, being the children's natural protector, believes that she can do as well or better with them without a man.

Incidentally, the statistics show that the mother-in-law is a much maligned person and that cases in which mother-in-law has taken the son-in-law's part against her daughter, or daughter-in-law's part against her son, are just as numerous as cases in which the mothers-in-law have taken the part of their own child. Furthermore, it is shown that mothers-in-law figure actively only in about 2 per cent of the divorce complaints. Father-in-law is even more peacefully inclined than that for he is the minister figure in only about one-half of 1 per cent of the cases.

Gossipy friends, wholly women, are more serious causes of marital infidelity than mother-in-law, father-in-law and all the other in-laws put together, for they are found to have figured prominently in 10 per cent of the suits.

While Catholic church members make up 20 per cent of the population, they figure in less than 1 per cent of the divorces, and there doesn't appear to be anything at all in the old saying about "marrying in haste, and repenting at leisure." It is found that long courtships result in just as many divorces as the love-at-first-sight kind.

WHICH, DOLLARS OR CENTS?

A Prophecy by a Chief Justice is Re-
called by a Senator.

(Autobiography of Senator La Follette in the American Magazine.)

I never shall forget the speech I heard the old chief justice of Wisconsin, Chief Justice Ryan, make to the graduating class at Madison in June,

1873, just before I entered the university. He was one of the most remarkable men who ever served at the Wisconsin bar or filled a judicial chair; an Irishman by birth, with a fine legal education. Of an erratic,

impulsive and passionate temperament, in his decisions he was as cold and judicial as any judge who ever sat on the bench.

It was he who had written the epoch-making decision

sustaining the Potter law, which in

no small measure laid the foundation

for judicial action in this country upon
the control of corporations. I remember his bowed figure, his fine, almost
feminine features, his wavy auburn
hair, and the luminous, impressive
eyes which glowed as the old man

talked there in the assembly chamber
to the graduating students. His voice shook with emotion and his prophetic
words, which I have never forgotten,

conveyed powerfully the feeling of many thoughtful men of that time. I have used them in scores of speeches
in my campaigns. Said he:

"There is looming up a new and dark power. I cannot dwell upon the signs and shocking omens of its advent. The accumulation of individual wealth seems to be greater than it ever has been since the downfall of the Roman empire. The enterprises

of the country are aggregating vast corporate combinations of unexamined capital, boldly marching not for political power only, but for political power. For the first time really in our politics money is taking the field as an organized power. * * *

Already, here at home, one great corporation has trifled with the sovereign power, and insulted the state.

There is great fear that it, and its great rival, have confederated to make partition of the state and share it as spoils. * * * The question will arise, and arise in your day, though perhaps not fully in mine, 'Which shall rule—wealth or man; which shall lead—money or intellect; who shall fill public stations—educated
and patriotic free men, or the feudal serfs of corporate capital?'

Handed the Reins to Henry.

When the summer resident asked
the Bushby stage driver what changes
had occurred in the village during the winter, says the Youth's Companion,
he was informed that Mary Simmons
had married a young man from a neighboring town, and gone there to live. "He first saw her graduating
day, last June," said the stage driver,
"and he made up his mind then and there she was the girl for him—so they tell."

"I don't remember her as especially pretty," said the summer resident, thoughtfully. "No, she wasn't," admitted the stage driver.

"She's no picture beauty, same as the Hobbs girl, nor she hasn't the vivac-ity of the Lawton twins, but 'twas her essay did it. The rest of 'em read 'The
New Woman's Place in the World,'
'The Equality of the Sexes,' 'A Plea
for the Tired Housekeeper' and 'Family Finance in the Mother's Hands,' or some such titles. I may not have them accurate, but I know the title of hers. She called it 'Handing the Reins to Henry,' and if what they tell me is true, she could have hand any one of seven likely men for a husband inside of six weeks from the date of that essay."

OUT OF THE GINGER JAR.

(October Farm Journal.)
The fast man is pretty certain to fall behind.

What three vowels express trouble?
I O U.

It will probably never be known what the hand-saw.

Be sure you are right and then don't make a fuss about it.

There is many a man who isn't worth what it costs him to live.

Every dog has his day, and too many of them have their nights also.

The blacksmith may be an expert farmer without being arrested for it.

Nature is a good doctor, but she makes her patients pay to the last cent.

What the corn heard with its own ears, the potato saw with its own eyes.

Few men know what is good for them.

The money that a woman spends is never for the bonnet,

but always for the fancy things.

The milliner puts on it.

The rich are known by their dollars, but the humble onion is known by its scent.

The farmer who lost his half-bushel measures was in more than a peck of trouble.

The foolish trust to the safety pin,
but the wise see to it that the buttons are well sewed on.

It is easier to climb down a tree than to climb up, which explains why the top is never crowded and why there is always room there.

We are none of us any better than we ought to be and many of us are a great deal worse.

The farmer has a good many mouths to feed; he is even obliged all through the winter to feed the fodder cutter.

Sometimes when a man is pretending to be looking for a wife he is merely hunting for a good cook. Beware of such.

Have Iowa Visitors.

David Yocom and son of Linn county, Ia., came to Maryville Monday
on a visit to Mr. Yocom's uncle, J. W.
Bailey of Linn avenue, and his aunt, Mrs. Albert Croy, three miles east of Maryville.

Here From El Reno.

Mr. and Mrs. John De Lana and baby daughter of El Reno, Okla., arrived in Maryville Wednesday noon on a visit to Mr. De Lana's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. De Lana.

Was Prettiest Baby at Picnic.

George Wilson of Guilford came to Maryville Tuesday and returned home Wednesday, accompanied by his 1-year-old daughter, who spent the summer with Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. George Lucas, who lives just east of the city on the Wright brothers' farm. The baby's mother has just returned from an extended visit in Kansas. Baby Frances has made a big place for herself in the Lucas home and it isn't going to be easy for the Lucases to get along without her. She was taken to the Ravenwood picnic by her aunt and won the prize as the prettiest baby.

Mr. Boynton beamed with modest pride, and regarded the platter lovingly;
but as an afterthought he remarked casually:

"I say, Bess, what makes you keep your flour in such an out-of-the-way
place? I had an awful time to find it."

She paused, astonished. "Why, what do you mean? I keep it in the corner cupboard, with all the other supplies. It's the first thing you see when you open the door, in the big tin box on the lower shelf."

She opened the door as she spoke, and indicated the box. He started for a moment, then crossed the room to a dresser and began rummaging among tools,
nail boxes and discarded glass cans in the under part. Emerging with a small screw-topped can he opened it
and displayed a powdery white substance.

"What do you call this, then?" he demanded, in a tone in which triumph and anxiety were mingled. Mrs. Boynton took one look, then dropped into the kitchen rocker, helpless with laughter, while he waited for an explanation.

"Oh, Jim," she finally gasped, "that's the plaster of paris that was left when we mended the Venus. How could you forget it? Surely you didn't—"

"Yes," replied Mr. Boynton, gloomily,
"that's what I did. I fried 'em in that—Youth's Companion."

The Latest Styles in Suits and Coats As Shown By Alderman's

IN ORDER to make clear the season's style tendencies and to point out the predominating style from among the dozens of odd and unusual features, we give here a short description of the fundamental style principles as presented in the new models we show.

The New Suits

The most popular Fall suits are the tailored and demi-tailored models in mixtures, polo cloths, rough materials, double-faced cloths, fancy worsteds and manish effects. They are made on very simple lines, some showing the fancy reverses, while others are made with simple notch collars and reverses, relying wholly on the materials for their attractiveness.

Probably the most noticeable style features are the reverses, cutaway effects and odd-cut seams. The slender silhouette effect continues in vogue.

Suit coats are from 28 to 30 inches long with hardly an exception. Finger-tip lengths or shorter is the rule.

The long, straight tunic effect finished a few inches above the hem appears in all grades of skirts. The slash effect still holds a prominent position. In many cases the slash appears at the side front, making a break in the long tunic, which allows an application of trimming and gives a stylish touch to the skirt.

Prices range from $15 up.

The New Coats

The new coats are unusually attractive, inasmuch as the double-faced materials, so largely represented, are shown in such a wonderful combination of colors. Serviceable coats can now be procured not only in dark colors, showing the reverse side in bright contrasting shades, but these garments are shown made of heavy woolen cloth in light colorings.

When the new reversible cloths are being used in full-length coats there is no necessity for other trimming than the large fancy buttons used for front fastening and as a finishing touch on the sleeves. The reverse side of the coat appears in the large collars, reverses and cuffs, and, as they are generally in bright colorings, there is an attractive contrast in the trimming effects to the dark color of the coat.

There is little chance for novelty in the cut of the long heavy coats made of these double-faced fabrics, as the material does not lend itself favorably to fancy outline; therefore, the dominant style is the straight line full-length cut with large collars, reverses and cuffs and with low left side fastenings.

A large variety of materials are in demand, but possibly the most favored are serges, tweeds, ratines home-spuns and fancy worsteds.

The prices are from $10.00 up.

Every garment we show can be worn with the comforting assurance that it is absolutely correct as to taste and style.

BAN IS PLACED ON WRANGLING

Dove of Peace Presides at Conservation Congress.

THREE WOMEN ON PROGRAM.

Mrs. Philip Moore of St. Louis Delivers Address on "The Community Club"—High Prices Have Come to Stay, Says Dr. Wallace.

Kansas City, Sept. 27.—The dove of peace presides over the third annual National Conservation congress, which began its second day's session here. There is not a semblance of a fight in sight. More than that, says Henry Wallace, president of the congress, there will be none. He desires less bickering and more work, he says. And he is seeing his wishes accomplished.

The previous sessions have been noted for the battles they produced. This made good reading and gave orators a chance to display their wares, but President Wallace was displeased with the wrangles. So before this year's meeting he made it known that delegates who came here to work would be welcomed, but that those whose purpose was to turn the congress into a debating society were not wanted.

"I received letters from different scientists who announced their intention of attending the congress and defending their pet theories, some of which had been attacked," said President Wallace. "I notified them that if they desired to come and help push conservation they would be welcomed, but that we did not want prolonged discussions on matters which would not advance us."

The scientists came to the meeting, all right, and they have observed President Wallace's orders.

A significant fact which has caused comment from many delegates is that none of the three pioneer conservationists, Roosevelt, Garfield or Pinchot, is present. Pinchot could not reach here, he notified the congress, and Roosevelt and Garfield sent regrets.

Three Women on Program.

Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, delivered an address on the subject, "The Community Club," and "The Farmer's Wife" was discussed by Mrs. Harriet Wallace Ashby of Des Moines, Ia. Mrs. J. M. Lewis of Kinsley, Kan., discussed plans for making country life more attractive.

Others on the program were Professor P. G. Holden of the Iowa State college at Ames, Ia.; Herbert Quick of Madison, Wis.; Dr. Warren H. Wilton of New York, and Dr. Frederick B. Mumford, dean of the University of Missouri.

High Prices Have Come to Stay.

Discussing the high cost of living in this country, Dr. Wallace said that the food prices would never go lower. He said there might be periodic reductions, due to reasons controlled by individuals and organizations, but that the lowest permanent level in the price of food had been reached.

"The application of science to production has caused all the present industrial evils of the United States," President Wallace said. "Science has separated the producers too far from the consumers. Until there are enough persons on the farms to till the soils so it will produce enough to supply the demand of the consumers in the cities, the high prices will continue. I don't look for this condition to come soon."

Are You Getting All there is in Your Cream?

A great American is credited with saying that the American people like to be humbugged, and the more you humbug them the better they like you. I don't believe it. To be humbugged is to be humiliated. Don't suffer yourself to be humiliated. We test and weigh your cream correctly. All kinds of produce. CHAR. A. JENSEN, Market Street Market.

LITTLE THINGS.

If a word some one has spoken cheered you just one little day, Pass the word along to others. Whom you meet upon Life's Way, It may help to lift the burden Of some one in sore distress; How much good may be accomplished By a word we cannot guess.

If a smile your heart has gladdened, When dark clouds obscured your sky,

Pass the sunshine on to others— You can do it if you try; It may be your smile will brighten Some one's life with sadness filled; When the sunshine lights the pathway Then the troubled waves are stilled.

If a little act of kindness Gave you courage when you thought All the world was cold, was selfish.

Give the lesson that it taught; Give a helpful hand to others,

As you needed, they may need;

Every life is made the better By a generous, kindly deed.

Tis the little things that daily

Make our lives a joy or woe;

Do the little things, then—bravely;

Fill the minutes ere they go

With a smile or word of comfort

Or a kindly act, though small;

Tis the little things that really

Are the greatest, after all.

R. W. SPEER.

Mayor of Denver, Who Forced Marine Corps to Haul Down U. S. Flag.

OLD GLORY ORDERED DOWN

Denver Mayor Forces Marine Corps to Obey City Ordinance.

Denver, Sept. 27.—Mayor Speer compelled the United States marine corps to haul down its colors in Denver, and as a result the mayor may be involved with the United States government.

Two of the official flags of the marine corps were hung over the sidewalk from the building in which the recruiting station has its headquarters, in violation of a city ordinance.

Captain Hayes, in charge of the local recruiting station, will probably take the matter up with the authorities at Washington.

The scientists came to the meeting, all right, and they have observed President Wallace's orders.

TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE DEAD

Survivors of Liberte Disaster
Answer Roll Call.

Toulon, France, Sept. 27.—A thin company of survivors was drawn up on the deck of the battleship Suffren to answer to the roll call of the crew of the ill-fated Liberte, which was destroyed by an explosion and fire twenty-four hours earlier.

The survivors of the disaster, with the exception of those in the hospital, are temporarily quartered on the sister ship. When the name of an absent one was called some one of his comrades responded "dead," "hospital," or "missing."

An official statement giving the casualties in the loss of the Liberte places the dead at 235 and the injured at eighty-eight, with one man missing.

The search of the wreckage of the battleship continued throughout the night with the aid of great torches. During the night fifty bodies were recovered and eight wounded men were rescued from that part of the vessel that remained exposed when the hull sank. These men had been pinned in the ruins from sixteen to twenty-six hours. Most of them were insensible from pain and their rescuers lacked the assistance that their cries otherwise would have given in locating their exact position.

The causes of the disaster continue to be discussed with animation among the officers and men of the fleet. Whatever may have started the uncontrollable fire aboard the Liberte, it was pointed out, might equally well fire any ship in the French navy. If the initial cause of the tragedy was the chemical change in the powder so that by the mere lapse of time it began to burn, not a life aboard any warship, it was argued, would be safe.

Women's Dresses

Women who keep pace with the fashion thought of the day will be delighted with our assemblage of dresses. We have bought over one hundred dresses and very few styles two alike, so that you will find exclusiveness in our line. We have had experience in the past of buying two dresses alike and with the many styles and designs that we have purchased this season can say we have avoided this.

Our line this season comprises a beautiful line of tailored and fancy dresses, and we have been told by those who have seen our garments that they are very reasonable in price.

We know that those who are contemplating buying a dress will come and inspect carefully our styles. A dress is what you should buy this season. Buy a pretty dress and coat and you will be well dressed. This combination is so sensible and practical and then again it is dressy. Those who are not contemplating buying a dress should see our showing. We know you will become enthusiastic about it, and will tell others about the pretty styles we have. We will take great pleasure in showing you, and we know you will highly praise our garments.

We have new dresses arriving every day by express, and if you should not be able to find just what you want on first looking, come back again in a day or two, as we believe we can please you. It is our purpose to help you in your selections and we cheerfully do this.

We have this season

a snappy line of junior and misses dresses in sizes 13, 15, 17 and 14, 16 and 18. This is the first season that we have carried junior and misses dresses and we want you to know that you will find a nice line of these garments at our store.

We believe you will buy your dresses ready made if you will investigate our styles and prices.

The New Coat Styles

Are extremely different this season. This is a line we also give unusual attention as regards choice of material and styles. It is easy to say in an advertisement we show the best line this season that we have ever shown, and while this is true as regards our coats this season we want you to call and see for yourself. We do not believe any store could have better garments than we show. We did not confine our buying to one or two houses and get styles all alike, but searched the New York market carefully, for all the new ideas, and in this way secured many pretty novelties. Come early as the best garments are selling right out.

We also show this season our unusual handsome line of trimmings, dress goods, silks, tailored and linen embroidered waists, neckwear and dress accessories.

PEOPLE FLEE FROM TRIPOLI

Europeans Are Leaving City on Every Available Boat.

REVOLT OF ARABS IS FEARED.

Turkish Ambassador to France Says Sultan Will Preserve the Integrity of the Turkish Empire—Tripoli Not a Colony.

Tripoli, Tripoli, Sept. 27.—Foreigners are alarmed at the situation growing out of the reported intention of Italy to occupy Tripoli in defiance of the Turkish government. An Arab revolt is feared. Foreigners are fleeing hasty. Every available boat leaving here is crowded with Europeans.

The above is the first dispatch direct from Tripoli since the threatened conflict between Italy and Turkey directed general attention to that Turkish province on the north coast of Africa. It bears out earlier advices from Malta and other points indicating an exodus of Europeans from the troubled zone. Italian residents of Tripoli have left in large numbers, fearing that they might be made the victims of Turkish vengeance and the new reported possibility that the Arabs may take advantage of the situation and begin an uprising adds another grave feature to the Turk-Italian quarrel.

Meanwhile there is doubt as to the intention of Italy, as the correspondents of the country have been threatened with severe punishment if they make known to the world any news regarding the movements, actual or contemplated, of the army and navy.

Says Turkey Will Fight.

Paris, Sept. 27.—The Turkish ambassador to France, Rifaat Pasha, said that he did not know whether Italy desired to attempt to occupy Tripoli, but that Turkey would maintain the integrity of the empire. Tripoli, unlike Bosnia and Herzegovina, was not divided in races and religions, he added; all were Mohammedans. Tripoli was not a colony, but a vital member of the empire.

ROOSEVELT TO FARMERS

Colonel Tells Them Their Profits Are Too Low.

New York, Sept. 27.—Theodore Roosevelt told a hundred Pennsylvania farmers that he was with them in their efforts to get more money for their crops. The farmers were the guests of the United Farmers association, which is engineering a movement to eliminate the middleman in the disposal of farm products.

There was not room for the visitors in the office where the ex-president does his editorial work, so they stood in a corridor outside while Mr. Roosevelt addressed them from a point half way up the stairs.

"I never object to paying more for what I get," he said; "if it means more profit to the farmer, more for the wage earner. But I do very much object to paying more if it means nothing but profit to the men who stand between the farmers and wage earners and me."

ROADS FIGHT CUT IN RATES

Plan Appeal From Interstate Commerce Body's Rulings.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—The western transcontinental railroads have practically determined to appeal from the orders of the interstate commerce commission in its recent decisions in the intermountain rate cases. The decisions order drastic reductions in the rates from all sections of the eastern half of the United States to the so called intermediate rate points inland from the Pacific coast.

The traffic officials of the roads, who have been in almost continuous conference in Chicago for two months figuring out the effect of the decisions and the rates that would be required to be published to comply with them, have decided they will not accept the orders without a struggle. The legal authorities of the roads are now engaged in planning the necessary legal steps.

HELD TO GRAND JURY

Two Union Printers Charged With Instigating Murder of Nonunionist.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—William J. Bonner, an organizer of Typographical union No. 16, and Samuel Olsen, a union printer, were held to the grand jury, charged with instigating the murder of Rush V. Denon, a nonunion printer, Jan. 16, 1911.

The men were held on the testimony of John Daly, a former pugilist, who said he had been hired by Bonner and Olsen to "do up" Denon. He testified that he had been given $50 and that he had employed Samuel Cassidy, a former organizer of the union, for $10, to attack Denon.

Cassidy, in court, admitted striking the blows that caused Denon's death.

BRISTOW MAKES HOT REJOINDER

Kansan Takes Up Gauntlet Thrown Down by Fisher.

SECRETARY SCORES HYPOCRISY.

Points Out President Taft's Superiority as a Progressive and Says Real Accomplishment is Hindered by Demagogic Pretenders.

Hutchinson, Kan., Sept. 27.—Near the close of what had been a non-partisan celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Kansas as a state, with President Taft as the principal speaker here, a political incident flared up which gave a thrill to the thousands of Kansans who packed the grandstand at the state fair grounds.

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior in President Taft's cabinet, just back from Alaska, made a three-minute speech, in which he said some things about the difference between "real progressives of the middle-of-the-road type like Mr. Taft" and "hypocritical demagogic progressives who opposed every practical progressive policy put forth."

Senator Joseph L. Bristow, ranking second only to Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin among the progressives of the senate, followed Secretary Fisher and quickly caught up his challenge.

Intends to Have His Say.

"We, in Kansas," he said, "are always willing to grant that the other fellow is honest in his views, and we expect him to grant that we are honest in ours. I want to say to President Taft and to Secretary Fisher right now, that in working out the problems that confront us, we of Kansas will have our part and have our say to the end that there shall be equal justice to all and special privilege to none."

Both Secretary Fisher and Senator Bristow were widely applauded. The strong seemed to appreciate the verbal passage at arms and the practical serving of notice by the junior Kansas senator that while he was participating freely and gladly in the welcome of President Taft in this state, there was to be no let up in the factual fight, as soon as he had left the borders of the commonwealth.

The president himself had made absolutely no reference to politics. His address was purely historical and in it he had taken occasion to pay a tribute to the independence in thought and action of the Kansas people, saying that no matter how much one might differ with their views, there could be nothing but admiration for them.

ULTIMATUM BY MACHINISTS

Kruttchnitt Given Till Tomorrow to Reopen Negotiations.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 27.—Tomorrow has been set as the day for the final crisis in the controversy between the Harriman lines and the Federation of Railway Employees. An ultimatum giving Vice President Kruttchnitt until that date to reopen negotiations with the federation, represented by the presidents of the nine shop crafts composing it, was dispatched to the railroad official in New York.

Resolutions declaring for a strike of machinists on the Harriman railroads, unless demands of the federated employees are granted, was adopted by the International Association of Machinists in convention here.

PREFERS DEATH TO CAPTURE

Robber Pursued by Crowd at Salt Lake Kills Self When Cornered.

Salt Lake, Sept. 27.—A man entered the Utah Commercial and Savings bank just after closing of business and at the point of a pistol forced Assistant Cashier J. W. Boud to give him $1,000 in currency. The man then ran out into the street and turned down Main street, followed by police and a large crowd. Leaving the street, he ran through a store room. His progress was barred at the rear of the building, where he shot and killed himself.

The man was identified as O. W. Harvey. The money was recovered.

Butler Identified by Two Trainmen.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 27.—A letter alleged to have been written at Idaho Springs, Colo., by Butler and O'Grady, the defendants in the Homestake arson case, in which they denounced the Western Federation of Miners and praised the Homestake and begged for work, was introduced. The identification of Butler as the man who was in the baggage care of the North Western the night the explosive was thrown at the Homestake mill was made by two trainmen.

The man was identified as O. W. Harvey. The money was recovered.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair is First Sign of Age—Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Koch Pharmacists.

WASHINGTON PLAYED CARDS.

Once His Journal Shows He Lost $15 by Gambling.

(Sidney George Fisher: "Men, Women and Manners in Colonial Times.")

Washington may be taken as a fair type of the usual result of Virginia life among the upper classes when it did not run to excesses. He was very fond of card playing. We find the entry in his journal, "At home all day over cards," and his account books show innumerable purchases of cards, usually a dozen packs at a time. He played for money and small stakes, especially when he was young, and his winnings and losses are recorded in the books he kept without the slightest consciousness that there was anything that might be criticised; and there was not, for he was merely following the universal custom of the time in which he lived. With his usual moderation of character, he did not play for large sums. Three pounds is the largest gain and nine pounds the largest loss we find recorded by him.

Both Secretary Fisher and Senator Bristow were widely applauded. The strong seemed to appreciate the verbal passage at arms and the practical serving of notice by the junior Kansas senator that while he was participating freely and gladly in the welcome of President Taft in this state, there was to be no let up in the factual fight, as soon as he had left the borders of the commonwealth.

The president himself had made absolutely no reference to politics. His address was purely historical and in it he had taken occasion to pay a tribute to the independence in thought and action of the Kansas people, saying that no matter how much one might differ with their views, there could be nothing but admiration for them.

To these sufferers the Orear-Henry Drug company says you don't have to know anything about Hyomei except that you can breathe it and that it does not contain cocaine or opium or any harmful drug.

You can find out all about Hyomei without taking any chances whatever. Just get an outfit today, read the simple instructions, give it a fair trial and then if you are not willing to say that it is the best remedy for catarrh you have ever used the Orear-Henry Drug Co. will gladly return your money.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles 50 cents.

Called the Californian.

A hotel in Los Angeles is much fancied as a center for tourists, and because of general visiting the management has never driven outsiders away from the big chairs in the lobby.

One by-product was the appropriation of newspapers. If a man left his paper behind while he went to get a cigar or answer a telephone call, that paper was missing on his return.

The suspect, if questioned at all, would always insist stoutly that he had just bought it.

Bill Tuller of Chicago saw his paper in the possession of a stranger in retreat, whom he flagged.

"You have my paper," he said.

"You are greatly mistaken. I just paid for it at the news stand."

Tuller's come-back was in pantomime and artistic. He took the paper from the stranger's hands and pointed to the date line and title.

It was the New York Herald of the '60s.—Chicago Evening Post.

TO MAKE A START

WORK ON SOLUTION OF WATER PROBLEM TO BEGIN.

COUNCIL SAYS, GO AHEAD

The Board Authorized to Proceed in Its Own Way and at Its Discretion.

Real work on taking the value of the present water company's plant and what improvements are necessary to determine what a new plant can be put in for, and to make tests for well water as a source of supply for city water, will commence within the next week or so, as it is thought the board of public works will contract with the two engineering firms to do the work within the next two days.

At a meeting of the city council held Tuesday afternoon, the council authorized the board of public works to take what action they thought best, and to make what contracts are necessary.

The board of public works will meet this afternoon, and while they did not hire the engineers, they expect to sign up a contract within a day or so. The two engineering firms that will be hired are Burns & McDonald of Kansas City, the firm that made an estimate and placed a value on the city company's plant five or six years ago, and Hiram Phillips of St. Louis. The object of the board in hiring two engineering firms, working independently of one another, is for the purpose of having as "true a value of the plant and what a new plant would cost as possible. The two firms will only be hired for the time it will take for experimental work. For the rest of the work, such as improving the old plant, or in case of building a new water plant or making test wells, the engineers whose suggestions along these lines are the best will be hired, and in case the board believes they can do better, neither of the firms will be employed.

The board is anxious to commence work at once. Manager Street of the city water company will probably be in the city within the next few days, to be here when an estimate of the plant is made.

THE HOME WRECKER

THE DIVORCE COURT STATISTICS SHOW WOMAN BLAMEABLE.

3 SUITS TO 5 LICENSES

Mother-in-Law a Much Maligned Party—Figures in Only 2 Per Cent of Divorce Cases.

Woman, not man, is the real home wrecker, according to statistics being compiled from the divorce court record at Kansas City, says the Star. So far, the statistics show practically 80 per cent of the divorce suits now on the circuit court docket are brought by wives and that practically the same percentage of the suits are brought on so-called trivial charges. By trivial charges is meant incompatibility of temper, quarrels and charges which do not charge infractions of moral or civil law.

Previous statistics showed that in Jackson county, in which Kansas City is, there were three suits for divorce filed to every five marriage licenses issued and this startling percentage prompted an investigation. It is found that while 80 per cent of the plaintiffs are women and 80 per cent of their suits are brought on trivial charges and 10 per cent are charges of desertion immoral conduct, refusal to perform marital duties or neglect of the home through a desire to work elsewhere.

Men, too, it is shown by the suits, are long suffering, the average duration of married life of couples in which the husband is the plaintiff being twice the duration of marriage in suits where the wife is plaintiff.

Women, too, the statistics show, have apparently less regard for the future of their children. Whereas, in the suits filed by men, the average number of children to the family is about one, while 300 suits taken consecutively from the docket in which women are plaintiffs, show nearly 1,000 children, or a little more than an average of three to the family.

Two deductions are made from this fact, but the investigators have not gone deeply enough to determine which is the more nearly correct. On the one hand it would tend to show that the husband is disposed to endure longer the marital infidelity in his capacity of a father than the wife is in her capacity of mother. On the other hand, it would tend to show either that the mother has less regard for her children or that she is more confident of the future of them under her sole care, that she is braver in going forth in the world to make a home for them than the father. The father naturally looks to a woman to care for his children and hesitates in taking them from their mother, even where the mother is gravely derelict. The mother, on the other hand, being the children's natural protector, believes that she can do as well or better with them without a man.

Incidentally, the statistics show that the mother-in-law is a much maligned person and that cases in which mother-in-law has taken the son-in-law's part against her daughter, or daughter-in-law's part against her son, are just as numerous as cases in which the mothers-in-law have taken the part of their own child. Furthermore, it is shown that mothers-in-law figure actively only in about 2 per cent of the divorce complaints. Father-in-law is even more peacefully inclined than that for he is the sinister figure in only about one-half of 1 per cent of the cases.

Gossip friends, wholly women, are more serious causes of marital infidelity than mother-in-law, father-in-law and all the other in-laws put together, for they are found to have figured prominently in 10 per cent of the suits.

While Catholic church members make up 20 per cent of the population, they figure in less than 1 per cent of the divorces, and there doesn't appear to be anything at all in the old saying about "marrying in haste and repenting at leisure." It is found that long courtships result in just as many divorces as the love-at-first-sight kind.

"THE ROSE MAIDEN" TO BE GIVEN IN NOVEMBER

THE DIVORCE COURT STATISTICS SHOW WOMAN BLAMEABLE.

Rehearsals of Cowan's splendid oratorio "The Rose Maiden," which is to be given some time during November under the auspices of the Christian church choir, will begin next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the church. There will be about seventy-five voices in the chorus, among them many of the best singers in Maryville. The rehearsals will be under the direction of Prof. H. J. Becker, and Dr. D. J. Thomas will be accompanist.

Several rehearsals of "The Rose Maiden" were held last June, but the hot weather coming on they were discontinued, and those who then took part are requested to be present Monday evening.

Death of Four Year Old Child at Arkoe

Helen Culbertson, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Culbertson, who live on the Stundon farm, near Arkoe, died at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, after a six weeks' illness of infantile paralysis. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Maryville, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Lee Harrel. Burial will take place in Miriam cemetery.

The west steps and porch of the court house will be decorated especially for the occasion, and will be as beautiful in appearance as any church in our city could be made for a like occasion. There will be flower girls, ribbon bearers and a little ring bearer, and everything will be carried out in the most approved manner.

Two more donations to the list of wedding presents are an organ from D. W. Snodder, the music dealer, and a ton of coal from Pearce & Strong.

The real times that try women's souls though, are the mistletoe days of leap year.

The men haven't the nerve to kiss the girls, the women doing the "askin'" and going after the men instead of putting the men to all the trouble. Close observers, however, say they are no more that way leap year than any other.

However, it's a pretty safe guess that they stick to the rules as well as the men in case the suffragettes triumph and men have to wait four years for a chance.

The real times that try women's souls though, are the mistletoe days of leap year.

The men haven't the nerve to kiss the girls, the women doing the "askin'" and then they never raise an awful holler when the girls are too timid. They talk a lot about what they would do if they were just their place to do it, but they are not so brisk the other three years.

Every year that is exactly divisible by four is a leap year, except the ends of centuries. Only the century years are leap years which are divisible by 400.

There have been a great many arrangements of the calendar by different nations. After the French revolution a calendar for France was devised dating from the moment of the proclamation of the republic. Each month had thirty days, and the five days left over at the end of the year were set aside for a festival season.

The months were called "seed month," "vintage month," "heat month," "fog month," and so on—Creston Advertiser-Gazette.

The next meeting of the Tourists began their study under the most excellent leadership of Miss Helen Leffler.

Mrs. George P. Bellows acted as chairman in the absence of Miss Jessie Parcer, who is ill. Miss Leffler conducted a geographical study of Holland and a general study was pursued on "A Trip Through Holland," "Rotterdam," and "Holland's Industrial Capital." The paper on "The Story of Dykes and Canals" to have been given by Mrs. Leslie Dean was deferred to the next meeting, owing to Mrs. Dean's inability to be present.

The Tourists are having unusual advantages in the study of Holland they are pursuing, because of the effort of Mrs. W. A. Rickenbode, who secured advice from Holland in regard to authentic study of that wonderful little country.

The next meeting of the Tourists will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Jackson.

Presented Him a Gold Watch.

The celebration of the seventy-fourth birthday anniversary of Mr. C. W. Spillman, night clerk at the Ream hotel, Tuesday night, was a most enjoyable affair. Covers were laid for thirty-four guests. Captain Charles Hyslop acted as toastmaster, and all of the responses were given in the happiest style of the speakers.

The tables presented a beautiful appearance, decorated in cut flowers and assorted fruit. A two-course menu consisting of cold boiled ham, tongue, lettuce salad, celery, olives, pickles, cheese, rolls, ice cream, assorted cake and coffee was served. The host of the evening, Mr. Spillman, was assisted in his arrangements for the banquet by Miss Maud Clark. After the serving the toastmaster presented separately thirty packages to Mr. Spillman. Each package was folded and tied with various colored ribbons, but each was found to be a handkerchief a gift from each one present. At the close of this little joke on Mr. Spillman by his friends, Captain Hyslop presented him a beautiful gold watch as a token of esteem from the banquet.

Mr. Spillman has been in the habit of meeting at the home of one of his children to celebrate his birthday with his seven children and their families as his guests, but this year it would have been impossible for them to have gathered together before Thanksgiving, so he decided to ask his friends to celebrate the event with him. The guests included: A. T. Clark, proprietor of the Ream hotel; Nusbaum, J. B. Ellis, John, Joseph

called by a Senator.

(Autobiography of Senator La Fol-
lette in the American Magazine.)

I never shall forget the speech I heard the old chief justice of Wisconsin, Chief Justice Ryan, make to the graduating class at Madison in June,
1878, just before I entered the university. He was one of the most remarkable men who ever served at the Wisconsin bar or filled a judicial
chair; an Irishman by birth, with a fine legal education. Of an erratic,
impulsive and passionate temperament, in his decisions he was as cold and judicial as any judge who ever sat on the bench. It was he who had written the epoch-making decision
sustaining the Potter law, which in
no small measure laid the foundation
for judicial action in this country upon
the control of corporations. I remember his bowed figure, his fine, almost
feminine features, his wavy auburn
hair, and the luminous, impressive
eyes which glowed as the old man
talked there in the assembly chamber
to the graduating students. His voice
shook with emotion and his prophetic
words, which I have never forgotten,
conveyed powerfully the feeling of many thoughtful men of that time. I have used them in scores of speeches
in my campaigns. Said he:

"There is looming up a new and
dark power. I cannot dwell upon the signs and shocking omens of its advent. The accumulation of individual
wealth seems to be greater than it
ever has been since the downfall of the Roman empire. The enterprises
of the country are aggregating vast
corporate combinations of unexplored capital boldly marching not for economic conquest only, but for political power. For the first time really
in our politics money is taking the
field as an organized power. * * *
Already, here at home, one great corporation has trifled with the sovereign power, and insulted the state.
There is great fear that it, and its
great rival, have confederated to make partition of the state and share it as spoils. * * * The question will
arise, and arise in your day, though
perhaps not fully in mine, 'Which shall rule—wealth or man; which shall lead—money or intellect; who
shall fill public stations—educated
and patriotic free men, or the feudal
serfs of corporate capital?'

Handed the Reins to Henry.
When the summer resident asked
the Bushby stage driver what changes
had occurred in the village during the winter, says the Youth's Companion,
he was informed that Mary Simmons
had married a young man from a neighboring town, and gone there to live. "He first saw her graduating
day, last June," said the stage driver,
"and he made up his mind then and
there she was the girl for him—so they tell." "I don't remember her as specially pretty," said the summer
resident, thoughtfully. "No, she
wasn't," admitted the stage driver.
"She's no picture beauty, same as the Hobbs girl, nor she hasn't the vivace of the Lawton twins, but 'twas her essay did it. The rest of 'em read 'The
New Woman's Place in the World,
The Equality of the Sexes,' 'A Plea
for the Tired Housekeeper' and 'Family
Finance in the Mother's Hands,' or some such titles. I may not have
them accurate, but I know the title of hers. She called it 'Handing the Reins to Henry,' and if what they tell
me is true, she could have hand any one of seven likely young men for a husband inside of six weeks from the date o' that essay."

Good Intentions Spoiled.

"What's that?" Mr. Boynton said, going to the front gate in response to Neighbor Jones' hail. "Some fish for us? Awfully obliged, I'm sure, and Mrs. Boynton will be, too. Say, they're beauties, all right! Sea bass, aren't they?" He bore his prize into the little bungalow with pleasant visions of fried fish for luncheon, but suddenly remembered that his wife would not return until 1 o'clock and that she had left things already prepared to avoid cooking at the last moment. A bright idea occurred to him.

"Why don't I do 'em myself, and give Bess a treat and a surprise? The boys say I can beat them all at camp cooking, and this gives me a chance to show off a bit. Let's see—I know where the pork is kept, but I'll have to find some flour."

The search lasted for some time, but finally he donned a big apron, rolled up his shirt sleeves and went to work.
In due time a platter full of beautifully browned fish reposed in the warming oven, and he went out on the porch to await in the rocking chair his wife's return. She came very soon, and he related his achievement, as eager as a schoolboy for her surprise and approval. She displayed both in generous measure, especially when he exhibited his fish.

"Such a lovely shade of brown," she complimented him warmly, "and it was so clever of you to think of it!
Now, get the salad out of the ice chest and I'll make the coffee and set the table, and we'll be ready in a jiffy."

Mr. Boynton beamed with modest pride, and regarded the platter lovingly; but as an afterthought he remarked casually:

"I say, Bess, what makes you keep
your flour in such an out-of-the-way
place? I had an awful time to find it."

She paused, astonished. "Why, what do you mean? I keep it in the corner cupboard, with all the other supplies.
It's the first thing you see when you open the door, in the big tin box on the lower shelf." She indicated the box, and opened the door as she spoke,

then crossed the room to a dresser
and began rummaging among tools,
nail boxes and discarded glass cans in
the under part. Emerging with a small screw-topped can he opened it
and displayed a powdery white substance.

"What do you call this, then?" he demanded, in a tone in which triumph
and anxiety were mingled. Mrs. Boynton
took one look, then dropped into the kitchen rocker, helpless with
laughter, while he waited for an explanation.

"Oh, Jim," she finally gasped, "that's
the plaster of paris that was left when we mended the Venus. How could you forget it? Surely you didn't—"

"Yes," replied Mr. Boynton, gloom-ily, "that's what I did. I fried 'em in that—" Youth's Companion.

We are none of us any better than

Alderman Dry Goods Co.
114-116-118 WEST THIRD STREET MARYVILLE MO.The Latest Styles in Suits and Coats
As Shown By Alderman's

In Order to make clear the season's style tendencies and to point out the predominating style from among the dozens of odd and unusual features, we give here a short description of the fundamental style principles as presented in the new models we show.

The New Suits

The most popular Fall suits are the tailored and demi-tailored models in mixtures, polo cloths, rough materials, double-faced cloths, fancy worsteds and manish effects. They are made on very simple lines, some showing the fancy revers, while others are made with simple notch collars and revers, relying wholly on the materials for their attractiveness.

Probably the most noticeable style features are the revers, cutaway effects and odd-cut seams. The slender silhouette effect continues in vogue.

Suit coats are from 28 to 30 inches long with hardly an exception. Finger-tip lengths or shorter is the rule.

The long, straight tunic effect finished a few inches above the hem appears in all grades of skirts. The slash effect still holds a prominent position. In many cases the slash appears at the side front, making a break in the long tunic, which allows an application of trimming and gives a stylish touch to the skirt.

Prices range from $15 up.

The New Coats

The new coats are unusually attractive, inasmuch as the double-faced materials, so largely represented, are shown in such such a wonderful combination of colors. Serviceable coats can now be procured not only in dark colors, showing the reverse side in bright contrasting shades, but these garments are shown made of heavy woolen cloth in light colorings.

When the new reversible cloths are being used in full-length coats there is no necessity for other trimming than the large fancy buttons used for front fastening and as a finishing touch on the sleeves. The reverse side of the coat appears in the large collars, revers and cuffs, and, as they are generally in bright colorings, there is an attractive contrast in the trimming effects to the dark color of the coat.

There is little chance for novelty in the cut of the long heavy coats made of these double-faced fabrics, as the material does not lend itself favorably to fancy out-line; therefore, the dominant style is the straight line full-length cut with large collars, revers and cuffs and with low left side fastenings.

A large variety of materials are in demand, but possibly the most favored are serges, tweeds, ratines home-spuns and fancy worsteds.

The prices are from $10.00 up.

Every garment we show can be worn with the comforting assurance that it is absolutely correct as to taste and style.

ARE YOU A CRANK?

Oliver Wendell Holmes Says That It is a Complimentary Designation.
(Oliver Wendell Holmes: "Over the Tea Cups.")

A crank is a man who does his own thinking. I had a relation who was called a crank. I believe I have been spoken of as one myself. That is what you have to expect if you invent anything that puts an old machine out of fashion, or solve a problem that has puzzled all the world up to your time.

There never was a religious found but its Messiah was called a crank. There never was an idea started that woke up men out of their stupid indifference but its originator was spoken of as a crank. Do you want to know why that name is given to the men who do most for the world's progress? I will tell you. It is because cranks make all the wheels in all the machinery of the world go round. What would a steam engine be without a crank? I suppose that the first fool that looked on the first crank that was ever made looking what that crooked, queer looking thing was good for. When the wheels got moving he found out.

Mrs. Joseph Dobbins of Arkoe was in Maryville Tuesday.

LITTLE THINGS.

If a word some one has spoken
Cheered you just one little day,
Pass the word along to others
Whom you meet upon Life's Way;
It may help to lift the burden
Of some one in sore distress;
How much good may be accomplished
By a word we cannot guess.

If a smile your heart has gladdened,
When dark clouds obscured your sky,
Pass the sunshine on to others—
You can do it if you try;
It may be your smile will brighten
Some one's life with sadness filled;
When the sunshine lights the pathway,
Then the troubled waves are stilled.

If a little act of kindness
Gave you courage when you thought
All the world was cold, was selfish,
Give the lesson that it taught;
Give a helpful hand to others,
As you needed, they may need;
Every life is made the better
By a generous, kindly deed.

Tis the little things that daily
Make our lives a joy or woe;
Do the little things, then—bravely,
Fill the minutes ere they go
With a smile or word of comfort
Or a kindly act, though small;
Tis the little things that really
Are the greatest, after all.

Dove of Peace Presides at Conservation Congress.

THREE WOMEN ON PROGRAM.

Mrs. Philip Moore of St. Louis Delivers Address on "The Community Club"—High Prices Have Come to Stay, Says Dr. Wallace.

Kansas City, Sept. 27.—The dove of peace presides over the third annual National Conservation congress, which began its second day's session here. There is not a semblance of a fight in sight. More than that, says Henry Wallace, president of the congress, there will be none. He desires less bickering and more work, he says. And he is seeing his wishes accomplished.

The previous sessions have been noted for the battles they produced. This made good reading and gave orators a chance to display their wares, but President Wallace was displeased with the wrangles. So before this year's meeting he made it known that delegates who came here to work would be welcomed, but that those whose purpose was to turn the congress into a debating society were not wanted.

"I received letters from different scientists who announced their intention of attending the congress and defending their pet theories, some of which had been attacked," said President Wallace. "I notified them that if they desired to come and help push conservation they would be welcomed, but that we did not want prolonged discussions on matters which would not advance us."

The scientists came to the meeting, all right, and they have observed President Wallace's orders.

A significant fact which has caused comment from many delegates is that none of the three pioneer conservationists, Roosevelt, Garfield or Pinchot, is present. Pinchot could not reach here, he notified the congress, and Roosevelt and Garfield sent regrets.

Three Women on Program.

Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, delivered an address on the subject, "The Community Club," and "The Farmer's Wife" was discussed by Mrs. Harriet Wallace Ashby of Des Moines, Ia. Mrs. J. M. Lewis of Kinsley, Kan., discussed plans for making country life more attractive.

Others on the program were Professor P. G. Mohr of the Iowa State college at Ames, Ia.; Herbert Quiet of Madison, Wis.; Dr. Warren H. Wilton of New York, and Dr. Frederick B. Mumford, dean of the University of Missouri.

High Prices Have Come to Stay.

Discussing the high cost of living in this country, Dr. Wallace said that the food prices would never go lower. He said there might be periodic reductions, due to reasons controlled by individuals and organizations, but that the lowest permanent level in the price of food had been reached.

The application of science to production has caused all the present industrial evils of the United States, President Wallace said. "Science has separated the producers too far from the consumers. Until there are enough persons on the farms to till the soils so it will produce enough to supply the demand of the consumers in the cities, the high prices will continue. I don't look for this condition to come soon."

PEOPLE FLEE FROM TRIPOLI

Europeans Are Leaving City on Every Available Boat.

REVOLT OF ARABS IS FEARED.

Turkish Ambassador to France Says Sultan Will Preserve the Integrity of the Turkish Empire—Tripoli Not a Colony.

Tripoli, Tripoli, Sept. 27.—Foreigners are alarmed at the situation growing out of the reported intention of Italy to occupy Tripoli in defiance of the Turkish government. An Arab revolt is feared. Foreigners are fleeing hasty. Every available boat leaving here is crowded with Europeans.

The above is the first dispatch direct from Tripoli since the threatened conflict between Italy and Turkey directed general attention to that Turkish province on the north coast of Africa. It bears out earlier advices from Malta and other points indicating an exodus of Europeans from the troubled zone. Italian residents of Tripoli have left in large numbers, fearing that they might be made the victims of Turkish vengeance and the now reported possibility that the Arabs may take advantage of the situation and begin an uprising adds another grave feature to the Turko-Italian quarrel.

Meanwhile there is doubt as to the intention of Italy, as the respondents of the country have been threatened with severe punishment if they make known to the world any news regarding the movements, actual or contemplated, of the army and navy.

Says Turkey Will Fight.

Paris, Sept. 27.—The Turkish ambassador to France, Rifaat Pasha, said that he did not know whether Italy desired to attempt to occupy Tripoli but that Turkey would maintain the integrity of the empire. Tripoli, unlike Bosnia and Herzegovina, was not divided in races and religions, he added; all were Mohammedans. Tripoli was not a colony, but a vital member of the empire.

ROOSEVELT TO FARMERS

Colonel Tells Them Their Profits Are Too Low.

New York, Sept. 27.—Theodore Roosevelt told a large Pennsylvania farmers that he was with them in their efforts to get more money for their crops. The farmers were the guests of the United States association, which is engineering a movement to eliminate the middleman in the disposal of farm products.

There was not room for the visitors in the office where the ex-president does his editorial work, so they stood in a corridor outside while Mr. Roosevelt addressed them from a point half way up the stairs.

"I never object to paying more for what I get," he said; "if it means more profit to the farmer, more for the wage earner. But I do very much object to paying more if it means nothing but profit to the men who stand between the farmers and wage earners and me."

ROADS FIGHT CUT IN RATES

Plan Appeal From Interstate Commerce Body's Rulings.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—The western transcontinental railroads have practically determined to appeal from the orders of the interstate commerce commission in its recent decisions in the intermountain rate cases. The decisions order drastic reductions in the rates from all sections of the eastern half of the United States to the so called intermediate rate points inland from the Pacific coast.

The traffic officials of the roads, who have been in almost continuous conference in Chicago for two months figuring out the effect of the decisions and the rates that would be required to be published to comply with them, have decided they will not accept the orders without a struggle. The legal authorities of the roads are now engaged in planning the necessary legal steps.

HELD TO GRAND JURY

Two Union Printers Charged With Instigating Murder of Nonunionist.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—William J. Boerner, an organizer of Typographical union No. 16, and Samuel Olsen, a union printer, were held to the grand jury, charged with instigating the murder of Ruth V. Denon, a nonunion printer, Jan. 16, 1911.

The men were held on the testimony of John Daly, a former pugilist, who said he had been hired by Boerner and Olsen to "do up" Denon. He testified that he had been given $50 and that he had employed Samuel Cassidy, a former organizer of the union, for $10, to attack Denon.

Cassidy, in court, admitted striking the blows that caused Denon's death.

Hearing on Bribery Appeal.

BRISTOW MAKES HOT REJOINDER

Kansan Takes Up Gauntlet Thrown Down by Fisher.

SECRETARY SCORES HYPOCRISY.

Points Out President Taft's Superiority as a Progressive and Says Real Accomplishment is Hindered by Demagogic Pretenders.

Hutchinson, Kan., Sept. 27.—Near the close of what had been a non-partisan celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Kansas as a state, with President Taft as the principal speaker here, a political incident flared up which gave a thrill to the thousands of Kansans who packed the grandstand at the state fair grounds.

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior in President Taft's cabinet, just back from Alaska, made a three-minute speech, in which he said some things about the difference between "real progressives of the middle-of-the-road type like Mr. Taft" and "hypocritical demagogic progressives who opposed every practical progressive policy put forth."

Senator Joseph L. Bristow, ranking second only to Senator LaPoltte of Wisconsin among the progressives of the senate, followed Secretary Fisher and quickly caught up his challenge.

Intends to Have His Say.

"We, in Kansas," he said, "are always willing to grant that the other fellow is honest in his views, and we expect him to grant that we are honest in ours. I want to say to President Taft and to Secretary Fisher right now, that in working out the problems that confront us, we of Kansas will have our part and have our say to the end that there shall be equal justice to all and special privilege to none."

Both Secretary Fisher and Senator Bristow were widely applauded. The throng seemed to appreciate the verbal passage at arms and the practical serving of notice by the junior Kansas senator that while he was participating freely and gladly in the welcome of President Taft in this state, there was to be no let up in the factional fight, as soon as he had left the borders of the commonwealth.

The president himself had made absolutely no reference to politics. His address was purely historical and in it he had taken occasion to pay a tribute to the independence in thought and action of the Kansas people, saying that no matter how much one might differ with their views, there could be nothing but admiration for them.

ULTIMATUM BY MACHINISTS

Kruttchnitt Given Till Tomorrow to Reopen Negotiations.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 27.—Tomorrow will be set as the day for the final crisis in the controversy between the Harriman lines and the Federation of Railway Employees. An ultimatum giving Vice President Kruttchnitt until that date to reopen negotiations with the federation, represented by the presidents of the nine shop crafts composing it, was dispatched to the railroad official in New York.

Resolutions declaring for a strike of machinists on the Harriman railroads, unless demands of the federated employees are granted, was adopted by the International Association of Machinists in convention here.

PREFERS DEATH TO CAPTURE

Robber Pursued by Crowd at Salt Lake Kills Self When Cornered.

Salt Lake, Sept. 27.—A man entered the Utah Commercial and Savings bank just after closing of business and at the point of a pistol forced Assistant Cashier J. W. Boud to give him $1,000 in currency. The man then ran out into the street and turned down Main street, followed by police and a large crowd. Leaving the street, he ran through a store room. His progress was barred at the rear of the building, where he shot and killed himself.

The man was identified as O. W. Harvey. The money was recovered.

Called the Californian.

A hotel in Los Angeles is much favored as a center for tourists, and because of general visiting the management has never driven outsiders away from the big chairs in the lobby.

One by-product was the appropriation of newspapers. If a man left his paper behind while he went to get a cigar or answer a telephone call, that paper was missing on his return.

The suspect, if questioned at all, would always insist stoutly that he had just bought it.

Bill Tuller of Chicago saw his paper in the possession of a stranger in retreat, whom he flagged.

"You have my paper," he said.

"You are greatly mistaken. I just paid for it at the news stand."

Tuller's come-back was in pantomime and artistic. He took the paper from the stranger's hands and pointed to the date line and title.

It was the New York Herald of the '60s.—Chicago Evening Post.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair is First Sign of Age—Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Koch Pharmacy.

WASHINGTON PLAYED CARDS.

Once His Journal Shows He Lost $15 by Gambling.

(Sidney George Fisher: "Men, Women and Manners in Colonial Times.")

Washington may be taken as a fair type of the usual result of Virginia life among the upper classes when it did not run to excesses. He was very fond of card playing. We find the entry in his journal, "At home all day over cards;" and his account books show innumerable purchases of cards, usually a dozen packs at a time. He played for money and small stakes, especially when he was young, and his winnings and losses are recorded in the books he kept without the slightest consciousness that there was anything that might be criticized; and there was not, for he was merely following the universal custom of the time in which he lived. With his usual moderation of character, he did not play for large sums. Three pounds is the largest gain and nine pounds the largest loss we find recorded by him.

Called the Californian.

A hotel in Los Angeles is much favored as a center for tourists, and because of general visiting the management has never driven outsiders away from the big chairs in the lobby.

One by-product was the appropriation of newspapers. If a man left his paper behind while he went to get a cigar or answer a telephone call, that paper was missing on his return.

The suspect, if questioned at all, would always insist stoutly that he had just bought it.

Bill Tuller of Chicago saw his paper in the possession of a stranger in retreat, whom he flagged.

"You have my paper," he said.

"You are greatly mistaken. I just paid for it at the news stand."

Tuller's come-back was in pantomime and artistic. He took the paper from the stranger's hands and pointed to the date line and title.

It was the New York Herald of the '60s.—Chicago Evening Post.
